

President To Stand By Blue Eagle Of NRA For Second Year

Chief Executive Eager to Hear Debate From the Country as to the Permanent Future of NRA After June, 1935.

By JAMES COPE (Copyright, 1934, by The A. P.)

Washington, May 23.—President Roosevelt will stand by the Blue Eagle of NRA for the second year of its emergency fight.

This was definitely ascertained today, amid the whirl of controversy over the Darrow report, coupled with word that the Chief Executive is eager to hear debate from the country as to the permanent future of NRA after June, 1935.

The President has told inquirers he is keeping an open mind on just how far the government should go a year hence in seeking a permanent arrangement between the government, industry and labor.

He plans to survey the results in his tour across the country this summer. New legislation would be necessary to carry on the NRA in its present form after mid-June next year.

The opposition faction on Capitol Hill, however, showed no signs today of relaxing its criticism.

Senator Nye (R., N. D.) who proposed the Darrow Review Board's inquiry, and who yesterday asserted the NRA was allowing monopolies to become "more powerfully entrenched than ever before," planned to take the Senate floor again.

Senator Borah (R., Idaho), who stood with Nye for the Review Board investigation, is seeking an opportunity to urge his bill for restoring the anti-trust laws.

Representative Britten (R., Ill.) planned to press his resolution for an investigation of the NRA.

There were signs that President Roosevelt might take a definite hand soon to cut through the confusion on NRA which the Darrow board's condemnation intensified.

It appeared probable he would first let the immediate hullabaloo subside or swing into definite lines, and allow revisionary policies within NRA to be perfected.

It does not now appear likely that the Darrow board will quit silently at the end of the month. It has plans all made to keep on going. The administration may have to devise a substitute for the board.

BIRTH CONTROL FEATURED TOPIC BEFORE WOMEN'S CLUB

Hot Springs, Ark., May 23 (P).—Heralding a change in policy, the sixteenth council meeting of the General Federation of Women's Clubs today turned to a study of controversial public questions with birth control the featured topic of the day.

Dr. Francis Potter of New York, listed as an authority on birth control, was the speaker on the affirmative side of the question. Dr. Theodore H. Aschman of Kansas City will be the opponent.

Dr. Potter was substituted on the program at the last minute for Mrs. Margaret Sanger, nationally known proponent of Federal legislation to permit the dissemination of birth control literature. She was unable to attend due to an injury received in a fall.

Another potential candidate for second vice-president was being discussed today. She is Mrs. Walter Comly, of Portchester, N. Y. candidates for officers to be elected at Detroit next year will be presented to the council Friday night.

AUTHORS' APPEALS GET APPELLATE ATTENTION

Albany, N. Y., May 23 (P).—The Appellate Division of the supreme court took under consideration today the pleas of several famous playwrights, composers and novelists to have the state tax commission refund them taxes assessed against royalties in 1929, 1930 and 1931.

They claim the state erred in holding retroactive a decision of the United States Supreme Court in 1932 that states could collect taxes on royalties and copyrights.

Those represented were Elmer L. Rice, Jerome Kern, Maxwell Anderson, Robert E. Sherwood, Oscar Hammerstein, 2nd, Edmund Romberg, Laurence Schwab, Fanny Henshaw, Arthur Schwartz and the estate of the late David Belasco.

BAKER'S BLUE EAGLES FLY BACK TO CAPITAL

Buffalo, N. Y., May 23 (P).—Blue eagles of nearly 3,000 New York state bakers were flying back to Washington today because the government "has failed to carry out its part of the bakers' code."

Decision to relinquish the NRA symbol followed adoption last night by the New York State Association of Retail Bakers of a resolution charging the American Federation of Labor with discouraging the government's approval of the code.

Receipts for the fiscal year (since July 1) $2,672,909,414.55; expenditures, $1,916,428,129.97 (including $1,578,428,129.97 of emergency expenditures); excess of expenditures, $2,592,800,496.82; gold assets $7,758,394,399.32.

New Bulgarian Regime To Give Bulgarian Rule, Premier Says

Is Not a Fascist Rule, Does Not Change Status of King Boris, Is Not Patterned on Any Foreign Model and Runs "Straight Through the Middle," Says Army Officer Who Staged Saturday's Coup d'etat.

By WADE WERNER (Associated Press Foreign Staff. Copyright, 1934, by the Associated Press)

Sofia, Bulgaria, May 23 (P).—The new regime in Bulgaria does not mean a change in the status of King Boris and it is not even proper to describe it as a Fascist regime, the new premier, Kimon Gueorguev, told me in a half-hour conversation in his office near the royal palace today.

"This, first of all, is a Bulgarian government," said the lieutenant-colonel of reserves who, last Saturday, started the world with his coup d'etat. "It is adapted to the particular needs of this particular country and is not patterned on any foreign model."

"Would you describe the trend of the new regime toward the left or toward the right?" I asked him. He replied quickly:

Gueorguev—despite his spectacular military coup which ushered him into his present prominence—looks to be anything but a dictator.

He is a man of medium height, is slightly bald, and wears spectacles. He was wearing a lounge suit when I talked to him and, with his friendly manner and soft voice, might well have been an American college professor receiving a visitor in his study.

Only when questioned as to the status of the king did his voice become harsh and metallic.

"I told him: 'Rumors, various and spectacular, have been circulating abroad in connection with the effect of the coup d'etat on the king's position. Does the new regime in fact mean a change in the status of the king?'"

In crisp, brittle Bulgarian the premier shot back the answer: "Not the slightest!"

Colonel Gueorguev objected to a description of the new regime as swinging away from Italy toward Yugoslavia.

"It is our desire," he said, "to establish the friendly relations with our neighbor Yugoslavia, but not only with Yugoslavia, with all nations, Italy included."

Regarding the new government policy toward the Macedonians—whose struggle for an autonomous state has kept the Balkans on edge for many years, the premier said:

"They will be treated on a basis of equality with the other nationalities in Bulgaria. The Macedonian societies, insofar as they are benevolent and cooperative societies, will not be disturbed. But in the future, whether all political parties in Bulgaria will be abolished is a question, said Gueorguev, "being studied but not yet decided."

The new authoritative regime does not mean the complete disappearance of elections, he added, but, he said:

"It still remains to be decided what form they will take. There will be a parliament in which both political and economic factors will be represented, but the exact manner of choosing these representatives still remains to be worked out."

Japan To Protest Firing of Shots

Tokyo, May 23 (P).—A foreign office spokesman announced today that Japan will protest vigorously against the firing of shots at the Japanese consulate general in Khabarovsk, capital of far eastern Russia.

The announcement was made shortly after receipt of word that several shots were fired from a nearby building at the consulate general early Sunday morning.

One of the shots, it was reported, broke a window and was imbedded in a book-case in the office of the consul general.

There were no casualties. The spokesman said the protest to the Soviet government is expected to be made by Amekichi Ota, Japanese ambassador to Moscow.

Even though there were no casualties, the Japanese government views this incident seriously, the spokesman added, and must insist upon a thorough investigation and precautions against any recurrence of such violence.

Khabarovsk is on the Amur river, which for some distance forms the boundary between the Japanese Empire of Manchukuo and Soviet territory.

Numerous incidents in this region with Soviet frontier guards and Japanese Manchukuo soldiers on opposite sides of the Amur—have occurred which have been made the basis of protests by both Russia and Japan.

Dr. May and Woman Convicted by Jury

St. Paul, May 23 (P).—Evelyn Frenchette, sweetheart of desperado John Dillinger, and Dr. Clayton May, Minneapolis physician who treated his gun shot wounds, today were convicted by a Federal court jury of conspiracy to harbor the Indiana outlaw. Mrs. Augusta Salt, co-defendant, was acquitted.

Federal Judge Gunnar H. Nordbye sentenced Dr. May to two years imprisonment and a fine of $1,000.

Miss Frenchette was sentenced to serve two years in the women's reformatory at Alderson, W. Va., and fined $1,000.

Both were granted a week's stay of sentence.

Mrs. Salt was released and taken from the court room by friends.

Attorneys for both Dr. May and Miss Frenchette announced they would appeal to the circuit court.

Three Known Deaths In Tank's Plunge

Chicago, May 23 (P).—The thundering plunge of a steel water tank through the upper floors of a seven-story building last night killed three and seven injured today.

Three others were missing but search could not be made immediately because of the fear that tangled steel and smashed masonry would cause crashing down in another collapse.

The tank, weighing 339,999 pounds, crashed through four floors of the Oakley building.

MEXICO FIRST TO DECLARE EMBARGO ON ARMS SHIPMENT

Mexico, D. F., May 23 (P).—Mexico claimed today the distinction of being the first nation to declare an embargo on shipments of arms to Paraguay and Bolivia in compliance with the League of Nations move to end the Chaco war.

The government proclaimed the embargo last night.

The declaration was regarded merely as a gesture of solidarity on the part of the government with the league's program. Virtually no war materials are shipped from here.

I told him: "Rumors, various and spectacular, have been circulating abroad in connection with the effect of the coup d'etat on the king's position. Does the new regime in fact mean a change in the status of the king?"

In crisp, brittle Bulgarian the premier shot back the answer: "Not the slightest!"

But in the future, whether all political parties in Bulgaria will be abolished is a question, said Gueorguev, "being studied but not yet decided."

The new authoritative regime does not mean the complete disappearance of elections, he added, but, he said:

"It still remains to be decided what form they will take. There will be a parliament in which both political and economic factors will be represented, but the exact manner of choosing these representatives still remains to be worked out."

However, the meeting was lost. The two points included in Mr. Bell's posted notice called for action upon an addition to be built to the kindergarten room, or an enlargement of the main school building. Voters contended that this was against the original resolution and promptly voted down the alleged substituted proposals. The reason given by the voters for a refusal to meet the trustee's call was not that conditions did not need changes but that under no condition would such a course offer a permanent solution to the growing need of the township. It is said that the kindergarten teacher, Miss Esther Mekeel, has been forced, due to the influx of children into primary grades, to abandon her kindergarten work and to take up instruction in the lower grades.

Woodstock District School Meeting Ends In Barrage of Charges

At Special Meeting Voters Accuse Howard Bell, Trustee, of Acting "Under Pressure"—Mr. Bell Issues Statements—Wallace J. Andrews Speaks On Central School System.

Woodstock, May 23.—A special meeting of Woodstock school district No. 2, held last Friday evening ended in a verbal free-for-all, leaving the main issue of a centralized school system for the Woodstock valley clouded in a series of charges and counter-charges ranging from political malpractice to a selfish juggling of educational plans and needs on the part of administrators, and from unsympathetic antagonism and apathy on the part of parents and voters.

At a school district meeting held earlier in the month a resolution was drafted and adopted that a meeting be held Friday, May 18, for the purpose of discussing and voting a plan whereby the school system might be enlarged to include the centralization of all township districts. The charges from voters that the trustee, Howard Bell, had altered the original resolution to provide for a discussion upon alterations and additions to be made to the present school building. It was also charged that Mr. Bell had acted under pressure, but the charge was denied.

MEETING LOST

However, the meeting was lost. The two points included in Mr. Bell's posted notice called for action upon an addition to be built to the kindergarten room, or an enlargement of the main school building. It is said that the kindergarten teacher, Miss Esther Mekeel, has been forced, due to the influx of children into primary grades, to abandon her kindergarten work and to take up instruction in the lower grades.

Wallace J. Andrews Speaks District Superintendent Wallace J. Andrews was present and was requested to speak regarding the centralized school plan. He stated that had this plan been adopted during the last year there would have been not only the regular state aid applying in such cases, which would in itself make possible a $9 tax rate per thousand, but also an outright federal grant of 40 per cent, with no strings attached. In addition, Mr. Andrews stated that the Federal government would finance a bond issue of four per cent. Altogether, Federal assistance would have amounted to more than one-half of the cost of the building.

(Since the meeting, however, the committee on centralized school planning has been told that the Federal aid might still be available, though this is not authoritative.)

Approval was voiced for the points Mr. Andrews drew forth, because he showed that no State aid is available for the purpose of building or remodeling a district school.

Other Vital Points Other points brought out by Mr. Andrews were: A saving of $40 per pupil would be made on tuitions, which sums the various districts are now paying to other cities, together with transportation charges thereto. In Woodstock township there are in the neighborhood of 65 such pupils now. Also, the school day would be much shorter for the children now obliged to commute. Individual attention, too, would be greater, because there would be fewer children under each teacher. The tax rate all over the township would be a uniform $9 per thousand, and this would include the maintenance of the six outlying district schools up to the sixth grade. It was especially emphasized that under the centralized system provision is made in the budget for the continued maintenance of the district schools for the benefit of the younger children, if the voters choose to keep them in operation, but that, if it is desired at any time to close any of these schools altogether, with a resultant decrease in tax rate, they would do so and take advantage of the centralized school for all their pupils.

Annual Disbursements A very strong point was that the annual disbursement of over $40,000 in salaries, etc., in Woodstock township, such a plan would attract a higher type of year-round resident to all sections. It is a well-known fact that at present many affluent property owners leave Woodstock as soon

PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO DISCOUNT MORTGAGES.

Washington, May 23 (P).—An amendment to the administration's housing bill, which would set up a $3,000,000,000 federal corporation for discounting urban mortgages, was recommended today by the national association of real estate boards.

Walter S. Schmidt, of Cincinnati, spokesman for the association, submitted the amendment to the Senate banking committee in support of the housing program.

The corporation would be capitalized by the government at $200,000,000 and would purchase for discount mortgages on newly built tenant occupied homes, housing projects and business structures at a discount up to 2 per cent and bearing interest up to 6 per cent.

Eligible mortgages would not exceed 50 per cent of the value of the property after July 1, 1937, but could run up to 50 per cent until then.

BELIEVE SOUGHT MAN HAS RELATIVES NEAR HERE.

Last winter State Troopers and local police officials were keeping a lookout in the vicinity of Saugerties for Fred Sabella, alias Joe Piazza, who it was thought might be with relatives near Saugerties. He was wanted for slaying Policeman Peter J. Costa in New York City on November 24, when Costa and Officer William Cramer surprised a trio of gunmen in an apartment at 294 West 51st street. Two of the ruffians were captured after a gun battle in which one of the men was wounded and the other leaped from a window and fractured his skull. The third man, supposed to be Sabella, escaped. Sabella was arrested at San Diego, California, on a charge of criminally assaulting a woman. The western police identified Sabella by fingerprints as the man wanted by the New York police for the slaying of Officer Costa.

Notorious Bandit of Southwest, Barrow, and Bonnie Parker Killed

Man Wanted for More Than Dozen Slayings, Several Kidnappings and Numerous Bank Robberies Was Slain By Louisiana Posse As They Fled Over Highway at 85 Miles Per Hour—Officers Waited Weeks For Chance.

Black Lake, La., May 23 (P).—Clyde Barrow and his gunwoman companion, Bonnie Parker, were beaten to the trigger pull by Texas and Louisiana officers today.

Their crime career ended in a blaze of riot gun fire when, disregarding a command to halt and unable to get their weapons into play, the desperado and his cigar-smoking girl crumpled up in the front seat of a car traveling at about 85 miles an hour.

The car careened into an embankment and was wrecked.

In the wreckage, the officers who had set the trap for the southwest's public enemy number one and the Parker woman found both bodies riddled with bullets. Bonnie's was almost doubled over the machine gun she had held in her lap. Barrow's broken body was twisted behind the steering wheel, a revolver gripped in one hand.

The car, splintered by gunfire, proved to be a speeding arsenal.

The trap was sprung by Frank Hamer, a former Texas ranger, B. M. Gault, a highway patrolman, and Ted Hinton and Bob Alcorn, Dallas county sheriffs. Hamer was recently commissioned as a highway patrolman for the special purpose of getting his man—and, in this case, his gunwoman.

Hamer had learned of the highways frequented by the pair and had been watching for weeks.

Hamer and Gault had been watching the Black Lake hideout two months.

Several weeks ago they barely missed the couple at the rendezvous. After that they adopted a policy of "sitting and waiting."

Shreveport, La., May 23 (P).—Clyde Barrow, notorious bandit of the southwest, and his woman companion, Bonnie Parker, were killed today while speeding 85 miles an hour

Flashes of Life Sketched in Brief

(By The Associated Press)

You Man, Dillinger
Tucson, Ariz.—One tough assignment, that's what Edmund Atkinson, Pima county deputy sheriff, says it is.

He has been told to serve a subpoena on John Dillinger.

The fugitive gunman is cited to appear in superior court here May 27 to answer to a civil action brought against him by various banks which lay claim to about $24,000 in loot, impounded after the capture, and before the escape—of Dillinger.

Straight Shooter
Oshkosh, Wis.—Motorcycle Officer Irving Stille is being reprimanded—not for his marksmanship, but for his choice of a place to display it.

A barkeep told Stille he couldn't hit the broad side of a barn with his under-barrel revolver. Accepting the challenge, the officer smashed a beer glass on a window 50 paces away.

Now he has been deprived of his day off for the next five weeks.

Lucky 13
Hutchinson, Kan.—That number 13 may be unlucky to some, but not to inmates of the state reformatory. The reason: For the last year every No. 13 boy who has had a hearing before the state board of administration has been paroled.

Won By a Nose
Philadelphia—Hotel employee won a race against death by a nose—a guest's nose.

They halted George Haines of Woodfield, W. Va., as he snipped his nostrils with a pair of scissors in what police said was an attempt to end his life.

Doctors said the cuts were not serious.

OK's Night Life at 102

Chicago—Early to rise, early to bed, early to go to work, early to retire, that's the motto of Margaret Gorman, 102 years old, but not early to bed.

At 102 up every morning at 7 o'clock, she says, "I don't sleep, I stay up late at night."

Miss Gorman, a native of New York, recently observed her 102nd birthday anniversary.

Mr. Farmer, Good Farmer

Montgomery, Ala.—James M. Tennant farmer is now a good farmer, he has received a full pardon from Governor B. N. Miller.

Farmer was pardoned in 1935 after serving three years of a 10-year term for murder. He is now a successful farmer and is planning to build a good citizen.

Fired With Ambition

Pittsburgh—After being fired from his position as a police officer, a man named Carl Frank found himself in the basement of the Federal building, he was questioned by Postmaster William M. Turner.

The postmaster said Frank admitted starting the fire, in that he was prompt action in "discovering" and extinguishing them would slow him down.

Now he's held for action by Federal authorities.

Women Police Preferred

Chicago—Police women may be discarded in London—but not in Chicago.

Police Commissioner Allman shook his head when he heard that the London women's police force was being disbanded.

"Chicago police women are among our best assets," he said. "They are indispensable for certain duties."

MT. TREMPER GRANGE HELD

REGULAR MEETING FRIDAY

Mt. Tremper, May 22—On Friday, May 18, Mt. Tremper Grange held its regular meeting with 26 members from Stone Ridge Grange.

During this visit Stone Ridge Grange officers occupied their respective offices, and conducted the meeting in a dignified manner.

The lecturer's hour was well planned and executed. It consisted of a well balanced program and was greatly enjoyed by those present.

The visitors brought with them the "Little Red Schoolhouse" which exemplifies higher education. The Grangers are doing their part by giving donations to the revolving scholarship fund.

On Monday, May 25, Mt. Tremper Grange will take the "Little Red Schoolhouse" to Patroon Grange at Accord.

Arrangements have been made to hire a bus on this occasion. All members interested in going are asked to get in touch with one of the committee in charge, L. Ruckert, Shokan; Royal Morris, Chichester; or Ernest Gardner, Mt. Tremper.

It has been reported 28 members have already made reservations.

Members interested in joining the Grange Chess and Checker Club are asked to be present at the next meeting, June 1, when the matter will be discussed.

Brother E. Gardner was selected as a committee of one to decorate the graves of members who have died since last Decoration Day.

After the meeting refreshments were served and many of those present enjoyed dancing, while others played cards or checkers until after midnight.

PANAMA ROUTE MAY USE OLD GOLD ROAD

Plan Highway to Link East and West Coasts.

Washington—The old Spanish "Gold Road" across the Isthmus of Panama, with its vivid memories of Purvian times, Pacific pearls and Spanish buccaners, may have a twentieth century counterpart at 10 far distant date.

The reconnaissance survey report on the inter-American highway, which is being studied by the house committee on roads, contains a suggestion that a road be built from Panama City to Colon by way of Juan Diaz and Madecan to France field.

Trail Made by Spaniards.

"This would take in sections of the old 'Gold Road' used by early Spaniards in transporting bullion from Peru and Mexico to the Atlantic coast," the report said.

"A survey of this section was recently completed by Canal Zone authorities. A large amount of construction might be obtained here by linking the Madden Dam-France Field section with Canal Zone highways. Bus and automobile traffic over a trans-isthmian highway from Colon to Panama would be relatively large."

The Panama City to Colon route is but one of several roads to connect with the inter-American highway which was suggested to the Republic of Panama in the survey report. Other suggestions were:

"The transformation to a highway of the present pack-horse trail from David, province of Chiriqui, to Bocadel Toro would do much to advance the economic well-being of the western end of Panama.

"A highway from Colon to Puerto Bello, which is situated on a small deep-sea harbor and which in Spanish days was an important distributing point."

Cost of Road Estimated.

The report said that potential traffic on the Panama link of the projected inter-American highway cannot be estimated, "but indications exist of a considerable increase as the roads in the western section of the republic continue to be extended and improved."

The distance from Panama City to the Costa Rican border was given as 367.1 miles, or 590.8 kilometers. Completion of an all-weather road would involve a minimum cost of $2,141,269. Provision of a complete road, with 23 feet graded section and an oiled surface of 18 feet, would cost $6,420,043. The best type road, with a 30-foot graded section and 8-inch thick concrete pavement 20 feet wide, was estimated to cost $19,407,832.

Turkey Counts Children of Polygamous Unions

Istanbul—Polygam; has been forbidden by law in Turkey since 1926. But numbers of clandestine polygamous unions have taken place since then.

Parents of the unregistered offspring of these illegal unions now are being asked to declare their "hidden children" so that they may be made rightful citizens of the republic.

Tens of thousands of these "illegitimate" children are being registered in every province, the parents being pardoned under the amnesty law of last year.

It is expected the census of the country will rise from 14,000,000 to 18,000,000 as a result of the addition of these and other unregistered persons.

It is noteworthy, however, that only the children of the illegal unions are being recognized. The post-1926 polygamous parents are not allowed to have their unions registered as marriages.

Purple Cow Just Piece of Famed Delft Ware

Washington—Visitors need not fear they are seeing things when they encounter a near approach to Eugene Field's famous purple cow at the Smithsonian Institution.

The cow is a piece of the famous Delft chinaware so popular in earlier American days, and will be exhibited among a collection of old chinaware. In addition to being purple, it is quite ornate, and is realistically switching its tail in the face of a milkmaid.

The collection, lent to the museum by Mrs. Francis T. Renwood of Baltimore, contains such well-known wares as Staffordshire, Spode, Bow, Worcester, Lowestoft, Dresden, Royal and Sevres.

It will be exhibited in the ceramics division of the arts and industries building.

Mud Turtles Survive Liquid Air Experiment

Pittsburgh—The mud turtles probably smiled broadly as Americans suffered under temperatures of 50 or more below zero recently.

An experiment with liquid air at the University of Pittsburgh showed the living heart of a turtle able to withstand a temperature of 320 below zero. Although the heart was immersed in the freezing liquid for ten minutes, it recovered fully within 45 minutes.

In a previous experiment two goldfish were placed in the liquid for three seconds. When removed, one was thrown against a wall and shattered like a piece of glass. The other was placed in ice water and within a half hour was swimming about normally.

DRINK HOT WATER BEFORE BREAKFAST

Says you really feel clean, sweet and fresh inside, and are seldom ill.

If you are accustomed to wake up with a coated tongue, foul breath or a dull, dizzy headache, or, if your meals sour and turn into gas and acids, you have a real surprise awaiting you.

Tomorrow morning, immediately upon arising, drink a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it. This is intended to first neutralize and then wash out of your stomach, liver, kidneys and thirty feet of intestines all the indigestible waste, poisons, sour bile and toxins, thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal.

Those subject to sick headaches, backaches, bilious attacks, constipation or any form of stomach trouble, are urged to get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from the drug store and begin enjoying this morning inside-bath.

Just as hot water and soap cleanse, purify and freshen the skin, so hot water and a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate act on the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels. Limestone phosphate is an inexpensive white powder and almost tasteless.—Adv.

car in the world

Engineering facts prove it. Experience in building nearly ten million cars confirms it. And the record of over 3,000,000 Chevrolet Six owners removes any shadow of doubt about it: The only way to get real economy in a low-priced car is to insist on SIX cylinders and OVERHEAD valves.

SIX cylinders—no more!—because extra cylinders mean extra cost for gas, oil, upkeep and parts. OVERHEAD valves—nothing else!—for the same good reason that airplanes use them. And speedboats. And racing cars. They get the MOST power out of the LEAST gas. That's why overhead valves are the choice of leaders—and champions.

Continue Efforts To Clear Harriman

From Any Connection With Alleged False Entries in the Books of the Harriman Bank.

New York, May 23 (AP)—Attorney for Joseph W. Harriman, accused banker, today promised their efforts to clear him from any connection with alleged false entries in the books of the Harriman National Bank and Trust Company.

Continuing a long cross-examination of William A. Burke, former executive vice president of the bank, defense attorney George S. Leisure sought to show that irregularities in the books were the activities of subordinate officers.

The alleged false entries involved the purchase of Harriman Bank stock against the accounts of unknown depositors. Burke, who had testified yesterday that Harriman and Albert M. Austin, his co-defendant, had bought bank stock, stuck to his story.

"Do you know of your own knowledge that Mr. Harriman bought stock?" Leisure asked.

"I can prove it," said Burke.

"Do you know of your knowledge?"

"Yes, the books will show it."

Burke insisted he had nothing to do with the purchase of stock and that he knew nothing of the "clearing" of an account known as the Harriman Securities Corporation suspense account.

This account was alleged to have been cleared just in advance of the entrance of bank examiners.

The basis of the government's charge against Harriman and Austin is the allegation they used the bank's funds to purchase and "peg" the bank's stock, and then juggled the books to keep knowledge of the deflection from the examiners. A national bank is not allowed to buy its own stock.

Leisure, who has maintained throughout that Harriman is the victim of the acts of others, questioned Burke about the "clearing" of the control tickets which pertained to the alleged false entries. Duplicates were made, Burke affirmed, and sent to Harriman's office for signature.

"So?" Leisure said, with emphasis. "It was all arranged, was it, that in the event the bank examiners asked for the control tickets they would bear Harriman's signature?"

"I couldn't say that the examiners had not asked for them," Burke said.

It had been previously testified that the examiners asked for the tickets before Harriman was asked to sign duplicates.

Burke reiterated testimony that Harriman gave instructions for purchases and sales of stock through the Harriman Securities Corporation.

"You testified you had nothing to do with the buying and selling of stock," Leisure said.

"I didn't," Burke answered.

"But you say Harriman gave instructions?"

"He did."

Extend Crop Loan Time
To Farmers To May 31

Another time extension has been granted to farmers who wish to make applications for emergency crop loans. The closing date is now May 31, according to a statement received at the New York State College of Agriculture from the Farm Credit Administration.

The statement says no new loans will be received after May 31. Approved loans will be paid as soon as possible, either before or after May 31. Before this time extension, the closing date was to have been May 15.

Loans from the emergency crop fund are made only to applicants who are unable to obtain credit from other sources, who do not have a means of livelihood other than farming, and who are otherwise eligible.

The minimum amount of an emergency crop loan is $10; the maximum is $250.

Was Fined $25 For Reckless Driving

After hearing evidence submitted in police court this morning Judge Culliton found Donald Keyser, 29, of Greenwich Park, guilty of the charge of reckless driving lodged against Keyser by Peter Roche of Delaware avenue, and fined Keyser $25.

According to the story told by Mr. Roche, who arrested Keyser Sunday night, he had parked his car in front of his house on Delaware avenue, and Keyser driving up Delaware avenue about 11 o'clock that evening struck a tree and then hit another tree and crashed into his parked car. He estimated Keyser's speed at 45 miles an hour.

Keyser said on the other hand that he was not driving over 20 or 25 miles an hour and that Roche's car was parked on the left side of the street heading down Delaware avenue toward Ponckhockie with the lights lighted. Keyser claimed that he tried to pass Roche's car on the right and his hub cap struck one tree and that he then hit another tree and struck Roche's car.

Keyser said on the other hand that he was not driving over 20 or 25 miles an hour and that Roche's car was parked on the left side of the street heading down Delaware avenue toward Ponckhockie with the lights lighted. Keyser claimed that he tried to pass Roche's car on the right and his hub cap struck one tree and that he then hit another tree and struck Roche's car.

Dramatizing the Beach Ensemble

Copyright, 1934, by Fairchild

At left, royal blue straw is chosen for a wide shape with upstanding cuff of generous proportions. The tip of the crown is finished with a red composition cylinder, and ties with red linen under the chin. This is repeated in the band around the crown. The beach bag illustrated below matches, being of the blue straw body, with red suede heading, tassels, and handles laced through eyelets.

The enormous shape illustrated at right is of Chinese red leather. The crown has rippled flanges of itself at either side, terminated by bows.

Fabrics Refuse to Keep an Eight Hour Day

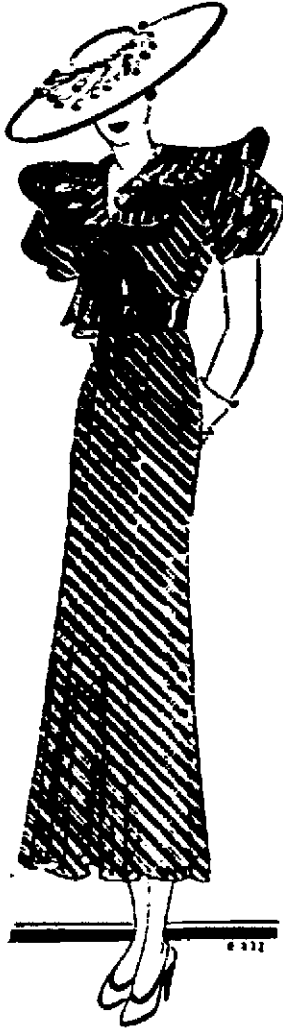

New York—If memory serves me right it was Chanel who first conceived the idea of tailoring chiffon. From that inspiration, for it proved to be just that, comes the tailored net costume and comes also all manner of tony tuxedo ideas such as using lace, satin, net and chiffon for suits.

Materials used to be bracketed as good only for certain purposes. But that isn't a part of the new deal. If it happens to please you to wear a pique wedding gown you have sanction of good authority for it. If you like the feel of net and don't see why you should not have a dark suit for sweltering days, there is every reason why you should do just that.

If you don't see why a printed fabric wouldn't be pretty for a hat, you are only following the thought wave of several clever milliners. If you happen to like the idea of an organdy wedding veil and are in urgent need of a wedding veil by all means have one. M. Worth of the Rue de la Paix says it's all right.

Ever since daytime fabrics got to staying up nights and going to the spiffiest places, chiffon nets, metallic things, satins, plaques and materials which heretofore had been mostly nocturnal have been trying their luck by day. They seem to be winning friends, but only after they have been rather severely treated. Well groomed women are ready enough to accept these fabrics, for day wear, but not unless they are made to conform to daylight decorum. They must be kept simple and even more clear cut than the more familiar daytime materials. Ruffles do walk out by day but they are minimized. One has to be cautious about giving the wrong impressions, as for instance, wearing an evening ensemble by day.

THE NET RESULT IS GOOD

Dr. G. W. Weber Lauds Col. McEntee's Book

May 21, 1934.

Col. Gerard McEntee, Saugerties, New York.

My dear Colonel McEntee:

Allow a former member of the Italian Army, now a resident of Ulster county, to express to you his deep gratitude for your splendid book on Italy's part in the World War.

I have enjoyed it thoroughly, not only because I am an Italian, but principally because it is a faithful and fascinating historical documentation of the Italian contribution to the common sacrifice, and I wish that all Americans would read it so that they could get better acquainted with the Italian race, which, unfortunately, has been misrepresented in so many instances.

As General Treat has justly said, "The United States has no truer or better friend on the European continent than Italy", and we Italians suffer when we are misunderstood and rejoice when our sentiments are appreciated by those whom we consider our friends.

Very Sincerely yours,
GEORGE W. WEBER,
Resident Physician.

"LISTLESS—RUN DOWN?"

YOU CAN FIX THAT QUICKLY,

Mrs. Florence Bruce.

Dr. F. _____* tells New York matron

Whenever you have that "tired feeling" . . . are listless, run down—Do what Dr. F. _____ recommends! Remove the real cause, and get quick, positive relief!

Yes, you can get rid of your depressing "tired feeling" . . . your listless, run down condition—but only when you remove the real cause!

And doctors everywhere now agree that the commonest cause of these troubles is accumulated wastes in your intestinal tract.

These wastes generate poisons that are picked up by the blood stream and carried all over your body. Also, the clogging wastes themselves exert pressure on the intestinal nerves—thus causing those nagging sick headaches.

But once you cleanse your system of these poisonous wastes . . . what a difference in the way you feel! And Sal Hepatica has been prescribed by doctors for nearly forty years as the safe, sure, quicker way to do this.

For it is utterly different from other types of laxatives in these four vitally important respects:

WHY SAL HEPATICA IS DIFFERENT—MORE EFFICIENT

1. It is a Mineral Salt Laxative. It flushes the system clear of poisonous wastes and aids Nature to restore the natural balance of body fluids.
2. Its action results from osmosis (a gentle, thorough flushing) and not from irritation.
3. It acts promptly. No hours of waiting to upset your day.
4. No "dragged-out" feeling afterwards—because Sal Hepatica does not deplete the body tissues of fluid.

So take Sal Hepatica at the first sign of clogged intestines. And thus aid Nature to keep you free from colds, grippe, rheumatic pains, upset stomach and other common troubles.

U. S. Death Rate In Slight Drop For Last Year

By F. R. COLTON

(Associated Press Science Writer)
Washington (AP)—America's death rate fell slightly in 1933, judging from figures just released by the public health service, but heart disease, circulatory disease and cancer continued to take an increasing toll.

Human endurance and medical skill showed a higher percentage of victories than in 1932 over some other important causes of death, however, including pneumonia, apoplexy, nervous diseases, tuberculosis, influenza, diphtheria, typhoid fever, and deaths in childbirth.

Cross Section of Country

The public health service report covers 22 states and the District of Columbia, all that gather complete statistics such as are needed for compiling the figures, but is believed to give a roughly accurate cross-section of conditions throughout the country. Nearly 80 million persons, about two-thirds of the population of the nation, live in the territory covered.

The death rate, from all causes, was 16.6 per 1,000 population in 1933, as compared to 16.3 in 1932 and 11.0 in 1931. Three depression years did not serve to send it upward.

Chart of Toll

The toll taken by several leading causes of death, per 100,000 population, in 1933 as compared with the two previous years was:

Cause of Death	1933	1932	1931
Diseases of circulation	217.2	214.5	215.9
Diseases of heart	226.2	221.4	212.9
Cancer, all forms	195.8	192.8	186.8
Diseases of nervous system	102.9	105.4	104.1
Diseases of respiratory system	51.4	50.5	55.8
Cerebral hemorrhage and apoplexy	80.2	81.5	88.8
Nephritis (kidney ill)	79.0	81.2	80.7
Pneumonia	70.3	78.4	82.1
Diseases of digestive system	68.0	68.5	74.1

Both children and mothers now have a slightly better chance of survival at the time of birth than in 1931, the figures show. Total infant mortality was 56 per 1,000 live births as against 60 in 1931, although there was no decrease from 1932. Deaths of mothers in childbirth, however, have dropped steadily, being 6.1 per 1,000 live births in 1931, 5.9 in 1932 and 5.8 in 1933.

Diphtheria Down

Diphtheria, once one of the heaviest scourges of children, took fewer lives than whooping cough in 1933. Deaths from measles and lethargic encephalitis increased slightly, and infantile paralysis deaths remained the same as in 1932, although the figure, 0.7 per 100,000, was a large drop from 1931, when the rate was 2.0 per 100,000.

Almost all the leading causes of death took a smaller toll in 1933 than 1932 except cancer, heart and circulatory diseases, including hardening of the arteries, blocking of arteries and veins by clots, high blood pressure and inflammation of blood vessels.

The tuberculosis death rate dropped as follows: 1931, 64.8 per 100,000; 1932, 60.4; 1933, 56.4. Diabetes showed a very slight drop in 1933 compared with 1932.

Following is the territory included in the public health service figures: Alabama, California, Connecticut, District of Columbia, Georgia, Idaho, Kansas, Louisiana, Maryland, Michigan, Minnesota, Montana, Nebraska, New Jersey, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania, South Dakota, Tennessee, Virginia, West Virginia, Wisconsin.

A Picnic Suggestion

The old-fashioned wire toaster with two parts is an excellent device to use for broiling steaks, meat cakes or chops over the camp or picnic fire.

Dinner Serving Four

Chop Suey
Bread
Grapefruit Salad
Jelly Roll
Coffee

Chop Suey

4 tablespoons olive oil
2 tablespoons chopped onions
1/2 cup chopped celery
1 cup diced pork (raw)
1 cup diced veal (raw)
2 tablespoons chopped green peppers

1 1/2 cups boiling water
1/2 cup bean sprouts
1/2 cup cooked noodles
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1 teaspoon chop suey sauce

Heat oil in frying pan. Add and brown onions, celery and meat. Add peppers and water. Cover and cook 10 minutes over low fire. Add rest of ingredients and cook 5 minutes. Serve.

Grapefruit Salad

1 cup diced grapefruit
1/2 cup diced pineapple
Mix and chill ingredients. Serve on lettuce leaves.

Jelly Roll

4 egg yolks
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup pastry flour
4 egg whites, beaten
1 teaspoon lemon extract
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 cup jelly

Beat yolks until thick and lemon colored, add sugar slowly and beat until creamy. Fold in flour, mixing lightly and add rest of ingredients. Pour to thickness of 1/2 inch on shallow pan lined with waxed paper. Bake 10 minutes in moderate oven. Unmold on a damp cloth, allow to stand 4 minutes, tear off paper. Beat jelly and spread on cake, roll up and wrap in waxed paper. When ready to serve, sprinkle with confectioner's sugar. Cut in slices.

Any kind of jelly can be used but currant, grape and plum are favored.

Washington Daybook

By HERBERT PLUMMER

WASHINGTON—It's been a long time since the democratic decision has been such a mad scramble among politicians to win the favor as is now going on throughout the country.

In almost every state determined contests are being waged to obtain democratic nominations. Candidates apparently are convinced that another democratic victory is to the cards for November and they want to be on the handwheels.

Take the state of Pennsylvania, for example. Outside of a few districts, until this year a democratic nomination was considered about as valuable as a republican nomination in Georgia.

It is a different story this year. Prospects of victory are so rosy that the democrats are engaged in an old-fashioned tilt for nomination as United States senator, representative and governor.

Joseph E. Guffy, national committeeman, and Roland B. Morris, ambassador to Japan under the Wilson administration, are in a clip-and-duck struggle to see which one will run against either Senator Reed or Governor Pinchot, republican, for the senate.

'Doubtful' States

A SIMILAR situation prevails in Ohio. Governor White, former Governor Donahay and Representative Tynan are campaigning to see which one will oppose Foss for the senate.

Ohio was preponderantly republican.

Senator Bryan crashed through with a democratic victory in 1920 and the G. O. P. still is confident it will be re-elected this year.

Other states usually considered as safe for the republicans in election years are marked down as "doubtful" at the present. Democrats, in such states as Indiana, Michigan, Wisconsin, Nebraska, and West Virginia are with wide open in their contests for state and congressional nominations.

Bryan And Mullin

DEMOCRATIC prospects are loud in their predictions that an additional senate seat will be picked up in West Virginia this year. Senator Hatfield, republican, is regarded as certain to be renominated. Two democrats are campaigning for the chance of opposing him in November.

In Indiana a half-dozen or more democrats want the privilege of opposing Senator Arthur Robinson, republican. R. Earl Peters, democratic state chairman in 1932 and for several years before that, is an active candidate.

In Nebraska Governor Bryan, brother of William Jennings Bryan, wants to be the democratic nominee for the senate, but there is talk that Arthur Mullin, friend of President Roosevelt and his floor manager at the 1932 convention, has ambitions along the same line.

If Mullin should decide to seek the nomination a bitter party struggle would certainly be precipitated with far-reaching consequences.

There's Nothing Like a Good Warm Shower

FOR REST AND RELAXATION

IF you've been in the habit of thinking of baths merely as a means of keeping clean, you are missing something. If you wake in the morning feeling dull and listless, or if the end of the busy work day finds you out of the mood for the pleasures of the evening, try a long, warm, tingling shower bath.

Of course shower bath fixtures are of very little use in a home unless they are backed up by an ample supply of hot water, always ready, so that you don't have to prepare for a bath, then wait for it, then find the hot water exhausted just as you've begun to enjoy it. An automatic water-heater is really a necessity for the complete enjoyment of showers.

Why not find out how little it really costs to own and use an automatic storage water-heater (gas or electric). The facts will surprise you.

Let depression go by—live happily. If you wish to be well, live happily. Of your great blessings tell, live happily.

Don't talk of disease, avoid doctor's fees.

Try always to please—live happily. If you long to succeed, live happily. All wise counsel heed, live happily. To win in life's race, keep the optimist's pace.

Wear a radiant face—live happily.

May Brays. Experience has the habit of teaching people a lot of things they would rather not know. Friendship is one fire that will never burn the fingers of those who hold it. Without a right state of mind, nothing goes right. Some people leave their screen doors on all winter just to keep out the peddlers. You can do what you like if you like what you do. If fate gives you the cold shoulder put your own shoulder to the wheel again. Never judge a man's knowledge of human nature by the opinion he has of himself. We only live once, but if we live right, it's worth twice in the face. Getting along nicely in the world is not inherited. It's easy for a stinky man to become rich, but what's the use? Making a fool of ourselves is only giving nature an encore. Radio singers should practice what they preach. If you are not in love with your job your job may get another lover. A man and his umbrella are soon parted. Work is never half as hard as you think it is. Sometimes a man is too good for his own good. Smiles lighten the trials. Most of us are found wanting before we are tried. There is no time like the present.

Lo. Brow, the new mayor of Brushville, posted this notice on the town bulletin board: "The fire brigade will be reviewed Tuesday afternoon should it rain in the morning and in the morning should it rain in the afternoon."

Stenographer—This "To Be Done Today" note on your desk is two months old.

Business Man—That's all right. I haven't done it yet.

The following social note is from last week's Brushville Bugle: "Mrs. Sarah Allen is seriously sick at her home north of town and all persons are requested by her sons to stop coming to see the big hog until she improves."

Departing Guest—You advertise this as the best hotel in town? Proprietor—It sure is.

Guest—Well, that may be a fine boost for the hotel, but it is a mean knock for the town.

Ignorance of the law should excuse a lot of lawyers from practicing it.

Man—Is your wife very economical?

Neighbor—Very. Look at the clothes she makes me wear.

Now that "obey" has been struck out of the marriage service, a local man supposes the next forward step will be to change that phrase to "To love and to cherish until divorce do you part."

"I wish that good looking man would give me his seat," said the sweet young thing, to her friends on the street car, and five men arose.

Are we approaching the point in social affairs where the grand march must be led by friends supporting the drunken march leaders?

The gun, originally a flint-lock, had at some time in its career been made over for the use of percussion caps, and was refinished by Mr. Langer. It is in excellent condition. The arm was reloaded and fired a number of times at a target. Mr. Langer himself moulds the round lead balls used in the rifle which are wrapped in a patch of greased cloth when rammed down the rifle barrel stop the powder charge. County Clerk James Simpson and Joe Schoonmaker, both veterans of the World War, were present. Mr. Langer promised to bring on his next visit a 12-pound German sharpshooter's muzzle-loading rifle.

Prof. and Mrs. Arthur Condon of Palenville spent Sunday evening at the home of Mrs. Watson Bishop at West Shokan heights as afternoon callers. Mrs. Bishop entertained Mr. and Mrs. Leland P. Hamilton and family of Ontario.

Mr. and Mrs. Nichols who have many friends about the locality spent their younger days at Brodhead heights.

Heavy electric showers drenched the reservoir country during Monday afternoon and evening. Best Of Spring Tonics Come Direct From Vegetable Garden Asparagus and Rhubarb Especially Recommended by Commissioner Baldwin as Spring Foods

By CHARLES M. BALDWIN
Commissioner, Department of Agriculture and Markets
Albany, New York

SPRING is the time for general house cleaning. There is no more lovely or refreshing thing in all nature than the annual "house cleaning" indulged in by Mother Nature just before the warm summer days.

Taking example from Nature, every family goes through the cathartic known as "house cleaning" once a year, or perhaps twice. And, if we are wise, we do a little personal spring "house cleaning" about the same time.

Conquering Spring Fever. When the feel the inevitable lassitude of "spring fever" creeping upon us, then is the most propitious time to take hold of ourselves and plunge into the "spring house cleaning." And in the garden, early in the spring, showing green above the brown earth, we find two of Nature's best tonics for spring fever—asparagus and rhubarb.

Asparagus is a most cosmopolitan plant, friendly to all nations and all climates. We find mention of it in the literature of Persia, Italy, France, England, Germany, Holland, Spain. Medicinally it has seemed always to be held in high esteem—we know the Gauls, the Germans and the Britons used it thus, and the Greeks and the Romans prized it as both food and medicine at least two centuries before the Christian era.

On our menus today it is a prized delicacy—cream of asparagus soup, asparagus tips with drawn butter. Its diuretic properties make it a valuable aid in our spring house cleaning. Right now, New York State asparagus is at its peak and cheaper than it will be again until next spring. So, consumer-house cleaners, eat heartily!

Rhubarb, too, right now is cheaper and more plentiful than at any other time of the year. There seems to be a popular belief that the human system needs acid in the spring to cool and thin the blood. We all know the sour tang of rhubarb, so unforgettable that merely the sight of the firm, juicy, red and green stalks in the for purifying the blood, cleansing the digestive tract and generally toning up the system.

Other Aids. There are other spring vegetables, delicious and important for their contribution to the "house cleaning" process—scallions and radishes, crisp and toothsome.

In the spring provide for those dear to you these vegetables that will purify and cleanse the blood and the system generally and restore "pep" and energy. They come to you fresh, crisp and appetizing from our own New York State farms and, best of all, are so low in price now that we may all have them freely.

Drop a postal card to Consumers' Information Service, State Department of Agriculture and Markets, Albany, N. Y., and ask for pamphlets on rhubarb and on cooking vegetables.

Chic Beach Togs, Cotton Crocheted

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

EVERY style-minded woman is wearing or will be wearing before the season is over something of cotton crocheted. You are supposed to have at least one crocheted garment in your spring and summer wardrobe and as many more as you may be fortunate enough to acquire. The important thing to remember is that for real chic the crocheting is done with either thread or string. The vogue for cotton-crocheted garments grows more insistent with the passing of each day.

If you are looking forward to sunning yourself into a perfect physical condition this summer and if you aspire to do it modishly and if you crocheted, the sun-suit and the beach dress in the picture will set your fingers all of a tingle to begin with hook and cotton without a moment's delay.

As everybody knows, it is neither hygienic nor comfortable to keep on a wet and chilly bathing suit while you are sunning yourself. A smart sun-suit like the one centered in this group comes to the rescue. You can make it yourself easily. Crochet either of heavy knitting or crocheted cotton thread or of the now-so-popular crocheted cord, which is so beautifully soft, comfortable and washable. The smart shutter effect over the diaphragm and the clever strap arrangement of this suit are unusual notes. A pleasing variety of stitches adds to its attractiveness.

Below, in the group, is a stunning and versatile garment. It is fundamentally a dress, but it does all sorts of tricks. The entire dress is crocheted of a heavy cotton crocheted cord which is cool and delightfully wearable, having the advantage of being lightweight so that it will not hang on you in a cumbersome way. The straight skirt fastens up the front with square wooden buttons, and it will come undone as far as you need it for a vicious serve or a flying leap on the beach. It is backless to the waist and has two narrow straps which button together with the same brown buttons. The straps unbutton and slip off the shoulders for a perfect sun bath. Note the cunning crocheted cap which fits snugly, keeping the hair from blowing about.

The little short-sleeved sweater with the turnover collar shown at the top of the illustration is an item you cannot well do without in your resort wardrobe. You will find that it will fit in with any number of occasions. It is charmingly made of a fine mercerized crocheted cotton, and the lacy openwork stitch up the front lends an air which distinguishes it from the general run of sports sweaters.

Have you seen the roguish two-piece frocks (blouse and skirt) which up-and-coming women are crocheting of natural colored string? These string-knit dresses are a most enviable possession and as the summer advances you will be congratulating yourself on being the owner of a costume which so faithfully bespeaks a well-dressed appearance. The charm of it is that it can be kept immaculate in that it rubs perfectly. The skirt will especially prove a treasure, for it can be worn with all sorts of dainty lingerie blouses.

Frills, fluted flounces, ruffles and bows trim these youthful and feminine graduation frocks—examples of what girls will be wearing this commencement season when they step up to get their diplomas. Both are the current commencement fashion trend. The dresses can be worn in the summer on festive post-commencement occasions.

New School Provisions

Mr. Andrews said the proposed school would include a kindergarten, grammar school, junior and senior high schools. The State Department of Education recommends the opening of the high school in the second year, since by that time the number of pupils will be sufficient to obtain state aid to operate without increasing the tax rate.

Mr. Andrews was thanked for his interest. No date was set for a future meeting.

Below is given the possible budget prepared by a state official of the State Department of Education from records of a centralized school now in operation. The budget is a parallel to the conditions prevalent in Woodstock.

Possible budget for proposed Woodstock Valley Central Rural School (1931 rating):

Delightful Garden Party on Tuesday

The garden party and bridge given by the Mothers' Association of the Ladies Aid Society of St. Luke's on Tuesday afternoon and evening was a very happy affair in spite of the disappointing weather. In fact the splendid spirit in which those who had worked so hard to make beautiful the grounds with the dainty card tables and baskets of lovely flowers on the porch accepted the decree to hurry and scurry to change all of their plans, added as much to the gaiety of the occasion as was lost by the storm. To the members of the academy from the youngest to the oldest it was a remarkable fine lesson in gracefully accepting the inevitable.

During the afternoon the story enjoyed bridge and plaidie in the attractive school rooms. For the younger folks and such of the older guests who chose that form of entertainment, a little six-act farce, entitled "Two Simpletons," was given very cleverly by the older girls of the academy. The amazing French provincial costumes of the last century, the queer little story and the exaggerated French manners were admirably portrayed by the young actresses, and the audience was kept in gales of laughter. The father of Innocence and Simplicity was wonderfully acted by Miss Louise McMan and Miss Kathleen Quigley was an equally good mother. The two simpletons were astonishingly realistic as portrayed by Miss Dorothy Jones and Miss Joan Wilson. Miss Ruth Loneragan, as the very aesthetic musical aunt of the simpletons in Paris, was one of the best portrayals and one of the most amusing. Miss Pauline Kellman was the hostess in whose home the poor simpletons made their social debut and she was very good as hostess. No part was better taken than that of the peasant nurse, by Miss Frances Doyle. Then there were the amazed Parisian girls whom the simpletons met for the first time, Miss Bernice Nolan, Miss Genevieve Judge and Miss Marie Kellman, and the dressmaker, Miss Anna Marie Kellman; and the tailor, Miss Virginia Jones, all important personages in the far-provoking farce.

While the farce was being enjoyed, card tables were being converted into tea tables in the school rooms both up and down stairs and in the cosy library and a delicious supper was served those who remained or came especially for the supper. The students were the dainty waitresses. Bridge was enjoyed again in the evening.

There was just one scholarly touch to the festivities and that was an exhibition of drawings made by the pupils of the academy. All of the exhibits were good but some were markedly excellent.

FLETCHER HENDERSON TO PLAY HERE ON MAY 29

Fletcher Henderson and his famous orchestra of 16 artists will play a return engagement at the Kingston Municipal Auditorium, Tuesday night, May 29. Mr. Henderson's orchestra without a doubt is one of the greatest dance and entertainment units ever to be brought to Kingston. The patrons who heard this band when it played here May 10 are anticipating a capacity attendance. Spectators may enjoy this featured orchestra as well as those who wish to dance. This band will open at the famous Cotton Club, New York city, June 16 for a six weeks' engagement, after which it will go abroad with the Cotton Club Revue for an indefinite time, opening at the Palladium Theatre, London, Europe's foremost playhouse.

WEST SHOKAN
Wilson Terwilliger, popular driver of the Coddington milk truck, made his last trip Tuesday morning. Mr. Terwilliger has been driving the route for nearly five years since the first run was made September 15, 1929. During this time he has won the affection and esteem of all milk producers and many other friends made along the route. Always smiling and outgoing and on the job in all kinds of weather, he will be missed by everyone.

Mrs. Helen Thompson, of Main street, Kingston High School senior, had her speedy Ford roadster summer serviced in Kingston Tuesday. Mrs. Thompson will graduate in June, completing her business course in three and one-half years.

Lemuel E. DuBois, well known automobile and refrigerator retailer, is sponsoring a cooking school to be conducted by a national cooking authority at 1 O. O. F. hall, Olive Bridge, Tuesday, May 24, at 2:30 p. m.

Mrs. Francis Bell of North Main street, proprietress of Sunrise Cottage, has returned to her home and friends after making a long winter sojourn with her son, Steward, and family at Poughkeepsie. Since returning Mrs. Bell has spent several days with good old neighbors, Mrs. Jane Ann Burgher and Mrs. Idella North.

Plot owners in the Tongore cemetery are receiving annual notices from the cemetery association, Charles L. Allen, calling attention that it is time to make provision for the removing of grass and weeds from the lots for Decoration Day. As in former years owners have had the alternative privilege of having this work done by the association or caring for the plots themselves. In the latter case the first mowing must be completed by May 25. For a nominal lump sum provision may be made for perpetual care of all lots. Many owners are taking advantage of this offer.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin J. Every of Traver Hollow entertained a number of out-of-town callers on Sunday. Community Kingston High School students taking prominent parts in the May Day exercises to be held Friday morning are Lorraine Tweedy and Mavis Miller of Broadhead heights, Louise Smith, Dorothy Smith and Rose North of West Shokan. Parents and friends of the students attending high school are cordially invited to attend.

Members of the West Shokan Sunday school are planning to hold a birthday party at the church basement Saturday evening for members having birthdays in the month of March, April and May. There will be games and refreshments together with a musical program assuring all an enjoyable birthday party.

On Tuesday evening Louise Smith and Cornelia Davis called on their high school mate, Miss Kay Roe, of West Shokan heights.

The half dozen temporary D. W. S. employees of the department payroll since the season of 1932 have been recalled to their former positions on the Ashokan maintenance force.

A season of hot summer weather and of daily thunder showers is in vogue of late in the reservoir section. Great growing weather for early planted gardens and farm crops.

Mrs. Addie Kelder of West Shokan heights will spend the week-end on a visit with her son, Lawrence, and family in East Orange, N. J.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Knapp of Flatbush, Brooklyn, Main street summer residents, are expected to arrive Thursday for their first visit of the season.

Electrical Fence. Lincoln, Neb. (AP)—An electrically charged fence is suggested by M. P. Brunig, instructor at the Nebraska Agricultural College, as a good thing to try on fractious live stock. Carrying only enough electricity, he said, to shock rather than to harm, a strand or two of smooth wire will keep man or beast at respectful distance.

A Musical Family. Baltimore (AP)—When Assistant State's Attorney J. Bernard Wells wants to hear a bit of orchestra music, it's simply a matter of "arranging" his wife and five children. They play an assortment of 10 instruments.

BRIEF SPORT TOGS FOR REAL ACTION
The shirtwaist dress with a skirt "and an extra pair of pants" is a timely suggestion for the girl who hails any sort of excuse for shedding her skirt. Shorts are accepted by the right people even though they are so often abused by the wrong people.

It's cotton time again. Among the many kinds of cotton which are highlighted is seersucker, a type which makes its entrance in something miraculously like a disguise.

There seems to be a brisk demand for plain cottons, either white or pastel, by way of change. The rank and file of shirtwaist dresses are made of striped shirtings, cotton or silk. Many of these open center front, and fasten with pearl buttons. The shorts beneath are either separate, or are one with the skirt, in which case the skirt is separate. All of which makes things easier for the laundress and more practical for everyone.

Gloves, Bags, Muffs Take on Increased Proportions
The bags, gloves and muffs which give a fashionable finish to new costumes have taken on increased proportions to fit the long, sweeping silhouettes.

Bags are huge. Schiaparelli makes one of mahogany brown calfskin which is almost as large as a small overnight bag.

The new "pillow" muffs cover the entire front of the figure. Exactly the shape of an oblong pillow, made of such furs as beaver and astrakhan, they recall the muffs carried by the beauties of the nineteenth hundreds.

The newest and smartest gloves are of fur (breitchwantz or caracul) and come half way up the lower arm. Others are made of the same wool as the ensemble and cuffed in fur to match its trim.

In such bulky stuffs as these they are naturally larger than last year's gloves.

Listen to this, for it's news, real news with a thrill—earrings that outline the lobe of the ear! See them pictured here. At the top a clip earring in the form of a handsome large gold leaf almost covers the ear lobe. This is a most popular type for daytime wear. The cone shell inspired the design for the becoming ribbestone clip earrings that outline the ear lobe of the patrician young woman posing below in the picture.

Talks to parents

False Values
By BROOKE PETERS CHURCH
Mrs. Jones was always well-dressed and groomed, even when the family finances were at their lowest ebb. It was the children on whom the burden of ragged and ill-fitting clothes fell, and though while they were small there was little complaint, as they grew older, both the girls and boys resented their uncared for appearance and their mother's style.

Mrs. Smith, on the other hand, put all the clothing allowance on the children's backs, and herself went about in such shabby and out-moded clothes that her daughters were often ashamed of her lack of elegance, and felt considerable annoyance at this neglect of her person.

The answer lies somewhere between the two. When children are small a mother is satisfying her own vanity when she puts time and money which should be spent on her wardrobe on her children's clothing. Little children are normally quite indifferent to their dress and clean and whole garments are all that convention requires.

Many mothers, over-burdened and tired, put hours into working over tiny suits and dresses which give the wearers no pleasure and increase laundry. The children would appreciate far more a merry, prettily-dressed mother, than a worn-out drudge.

As the children, especially the girls, grow older, however, a compromise is necessary. The girls must feel their mother's interest in their clothes and appearance. But it must always be remembered that they have the valuable assets of youth and vitality and need less than an older woman. If the pocket-book is limited, they must learn the value of simplicity, exquisite grooming, and careful dressing.

"Jenny Lind" More Active.
Jenny Lind, Cal. (AP)—This mining village once known as "Sium-gullion" and later as "Dry Diggins," is sharing in a modest way in the revival of gold mining. Huge dredges are working nearby but the visions held in 1856 of becoming a city are no longer present. In that year the town was rechristened in honor of the famous Swedish singer, a 70-foot-wide residential thoroughfare was laid out and in a single day 100 lots were sold with each buyer promising to spend $100 in improvements.

Governor Vetoes O'Mara Measure

Albany, N. Y., May 23 (AP).—Governor Herbert H. Lehman today vetoed the O'Mara bill to permit osteopaths to engage in medical practice and perform surgical operations because it contains "vague, indefinite and unintelligible language."

He referred specifically to the authority which the bill would confer on osteopaths "to use those diseases incidental to the care of the diseases included in the examinations of the board of medical examiners."

The Department of Education states that because of ambiguous language it would be impossible to restrict and prevent any type of medical practice other than some types of major surgery," the governor commented.

He also said "no" to the Deane measure to authorize the state to construct sidewalks on at least one side of all improved state highways.

"For many years there has been a well fixed state policy that the construction of sidewalks is a local responsibility," he said.

The governor approved the Wick bill exempting work relief project employees from receiving compensation in event of injury.

The F. M. Smith act appropriating $3,500 for investigation by the General Agricultural Experiment Station of the corn ear worm.

All organizations planning to take part in the parade should have representatives present at the meeting Thursday. The time of the parade will be fixed at the meeting.

Predict Housing Bill Will Be Modified

Washington, May 23 (AP).—Senators on the banking committee predicted today the administration's housing bill will be modified.

"Some of the bill I am afraid is not going to be workable," Chairman Fletcher told newspapermen. "It involves a lot of big propositions and I am afraid it is going to be difficult to work out."

Fletcher said he did not know whether it would be possible to frame a bill in time for consideration at this session.

"There is the question of whether the government isn't going into the mortgage business, instead of getting out of it, and taking over the whole mortgage industry," he said.

Administration officials told the committee the bill was designed to take the government out of the mortgage business and encourage private capital to take up the burden.

Officials of the United States building and loan league contended yesterday, however, that the bill would tend to drive out private capital and get the government deeper into the business.

NEW PLANS FOR CARS
ASK SPRING MODELS
New York, May 23 (AP).—A week of automobile shows on a national basis is under consideration by dealers and manufacturers, the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce announced today.

The spring shows would be staged simultaneously in about 100 cities from coast to coast, it is proposed tentatively, at a date between February 15 and March 15.

This plan, if adopted, would mean a later introduction of models which heretofore have been presented early in January at the New York National Show. Dealers' shows in this case would supplant the national exhibition.

Dissent In Silver Bloc May Aker New Bill

Washington, May 23 (AP).—Four western senators broke temporarily away from the silver bloc today for a battle on the question of liberalizing the silver purchase bill.

The four silverites—Borah (R-Idaho), Thomas (D-Okl.), Wheeler (D-Mont.) and McCarran (D-Nev.)—said they wanted to study the measure minutely in private conference to see if they should move to strengthen it. Their advance predictions were that they would propose no amendments.

First reactions of some of the four when the bill was introduced yesterday on the heels of the president's silver message did not indicate unalloyed joy.

"Silver is not made money under the terms of this bill, any more than greenbacks or copper or nickel is made money," Thomas complained.

Senator Pittman (D-Nev.) who introduced the bill replied that President Roosevelt viewed the bill as putting silver on the same basis with gold.

The bill carrying President Roosevelt's recommendation for a policy of silver purchase at until ultimately one-fourth of the country value of the nation's monetary stock shall be in silver, the other three-fourths being in gold.

It made mandatory the purchase of silver at home and abroad and provides for permissive nationalization of domestic stocks at a price of not more than 50 cents an ounce.

Substitute For Poster Against Karolak Spoils Legion Feature

A substitution in the main bout of the card between Lou Postor, Pennsylvania pugilist, who, according to an announcer, Sam Ribber, could not appear because of a tonsil operation, and Billy DiBello, having the same effect as a lot of burning rope and a lot of other things.

The New York heavy, Lou Postor, started out to whip the world with the place of Lou Postor, Pennsylvania pugilist, who, according to an announcer, Sam Ribber, could not appear because of a tonsil operation, and Billy DiBello, having the same effect as a lot of burning rope and a lot of other things.

The fighters protested, knowing there would be no pay-off and a suspension for the fight. Karolak, who was granted the right to continue, that there be no stalling. "Get in there and punch," he ordered.

Karolak obeyed and dropped DiBello with a series of stinging wallops to the stomach, rendering him helpless. All he could do was get up for more punishment and Sinker, realizing the scrap would only leave a bad taste no matter how long it lasted, stopped it, raising Karolak's hand in victory. This occurred in the middle of the second round.

The fans fled out of the building, voicing displeasure over the thing and saying things of a complimentary nature about Karolak, who was responsible for the appearance of Lou Postor. They recalled an announcer Ribber's words that Lou had been operated on for the removal of his tonsils 10 days previous. Someone, they opined, must have known about the incident, but nothing was mentioned until fight time.

When reporters inquired of Matchmaker Doc Stader why he hadn't informed them of Postor's operation, he said he knew nothing of it until last night when the boxing commissioners in charge of running the show said the Pennsylvania boy would not be permitted to go on because of physical weakness caused by the operation.

It was said by one Legionnaire that the committee from Kingston Post in charge of running boxing for the welfare fund agreed to refund to any dissatisfied fan the price he paid to see the bouts, but on the advice of the commissioners representing the state this was not done.

Not a Flop Entirely Although the main match was a fluke, the fans seemed pleased with the supporting ones, especially the action showing Nick Zinna, former Kingston boy, against Freddie Lewis, and Al Gillette of New York and Al Ragone of Brooklyn. Both these contests ended in a draw, the state of Referee Bill Singer being quoted to settle the decision when Judges John Finnerty and Joe Kelly disagreed.

The boo mark hit its peak when Big Bill Freeman was awarded the decision over Ruby Goldstein in the six round semi-final, not because the fight lacked action but because of the negro's lack of popularity as a winner.

Goldstein, a southerner, substituting for Jack Sullivan of Marlborough, hustled his 184 pounds around the ring, taking everything Freeman had. Referee Singer stopped the duel in the fourth round.

Freeman went around the ring boxing, as the crowd shouted boos that resounded through the place like thunder. He weighed 185 pounds.

Zinna Fought Well. Nick Zinna, 142 pounds, returning to a local ring for the first since National Guard boxing ceased several years ago, but with a number of pro bouts in New York and the East to keep him in fair shape, made a good fight with Freddie Lewis of New York who weighed the same.

The old lightweight pride of the Hudson valley, stepped around as fast as before he took on extra pounds, but was off on his timing, missing some shots that he never would have in the days when he mixed it with Johnny Carpio, Vince Hart and Harry Matinsky. He was as crafty as ever, though, and many of the punches that he took landed while he was going away, taking the sting out of them.

Referee Singer called the bout a draw after the judges John Finnerty and Joe Kelly failed to agree. Finnerty voted a draw, Kelly gave it to Zinna, judging Kelly had a slight edge on the fight.

Singer was also called upon to vote after the match between Al Ragone and Al Gillette and called this a draw. The decision was applauded by the fans who took delight out of the whirlwind contest put on by these two fast little featherweights.

He Doesn't Scare Me, Says Ross of Jimmy

McLarnin Will Have to Do His Intimidation With Fences—Harney Plans on Wading in Hard and Fast.

Ferdale, N. Y., May 23 (AP). That psychological edge Jimmy McLarnin has enjoyed immensely in his fights with little fellows, he says he inspires in them, has imparted the one of the welterweight champion's title defense against Barney Ross, king of the heavyweights in the Long Island area, last Monday night.

It is possible that respect may develop when McLarnin, the Cub with the look of an altar boy in his face and murder in his right hand, first lays a weighty fist on little Barney's chin. But it's doubtful even then if anything like fear will creep into the makeup of the cocky leader of the Rasofsky clan from Chicago.

Ross Well Fitted. The name of McLarnin, liked a lot of fellows before they ever got in the ring with him, Barney says. "He may lick me but he's got to do it inside the ropes. He doesn't scare me."

One good long look at Ross in training is enough to convince the experts that the lightweight champion is not merely talking for the papers. Ross has added in every way to his fighting equipment since he won the 135-pound crown from Tony Canzoneri.

Barney has been driving in on his sparring partners, never letting up on them a moment, indicating his plan of battle.

Will Wade In. "If Jimmy lays back and waits for me to come to him, he's going to get his wish," he says. "I'll come at him harder and faster than any one he ever saw before."

The State Athletic Commission called him from camp today along with McLarnin for routine examination in New York. He expects to weigh about 139 pounds on the commission's scales and fight at 138. He will box lightly through Saturday.

Eight Americans in French Net Tourney

Paris, May 23 (AP).—The first big tennis fixture of the season, the French hard court championships, opened today in Roland Garros Stadium with a cosmopolitan entry list which included eight Americans.

Two former collegians, Wilmer Hines of Columbia, S. C. and Henry Culley of Santa Barbara, Calif., were the only United States standard bearers in the men's division but there was a definite overseas threat for the women's singles and doubles titles.

All five members of the Wightman cup team—Captain Helen Jacobs, United States champion; Josephine Crickshank, Alice Marble, Carolin Babcock and Sarah Palfrey—and Dorothy Andrus of Stamford, Conn., were entered.

Mata Hari Favorite Chicago, May 23 (AP).—Mata Hari, the game little filly which thrilled more than 55,000 spectators by setting the early pace in the Kentucky derby, figures to go to the post favorite today in the $10,000 added Illinois Derby, closing the 20-day meeting at Aurora. The distance will be a mile and an eighth. A field of 14 was named in the overnight entries.

First Justices The first justices of the Supreme court were appointed in 1789, the year the government began to function.

SPORT SLANTS

By ALAN J. COULD

(Associated Press Sports Editor)

These baby-faced football coaches who couldn't teach their charges how to throw a football—I mean a football—had their way and made the ball so small that now even YOU can throw one a la "Charlie" Jones, one of my mid-western athletic scouts.

Minut the ball smaller and easier to pass, together with removal of penalties for missing passes, will make this football game a show affair if they keep on. What's the use of running with it and having the blockers clear the way, when you can throw it way down the field to some little shrimp—whose right it was all the way down is cleared for him? You'll almost get thrown out of the game if you should just double-dare to touch him—the little shrimp—and make more yards in a couple of seconds than you can make in half an hour's honest work.

"They should change the game to 'Hand Ball' except that that rugged game would be embarrassed by the slowness of its name-sake."

The East Gets A Chance The Intercollegiate A. A. A. A. championships, blue ribbon event of the eastern track and field zone, will be of special interest at Franklin field this May for the reason that, the usual circumstances will be exactly reversed.

Far western colleges, instead of sending out teams to dominate the meet as they have done for some time like 12 of the past 13 years, will be represented only by a handful of picked few contenders for individual honors, thereby leaving the leading eastern squads to enjoy the novelty of fighting it out among themselves for the big championship trophy.

Such star Pacific coast performers as Bob Kiesel of California, the sprinter, and John Lyman of Stanford, record-breaking shot-putter, will be welcomed with even more enthusiasm, perhaps, than if they were accompanied by a hefty squad of team-mates, Southern California, busy preparing to be host to the National Collegiate, will not be represented at all while Jimmy Luvale, U. C. L. A., probably will not defend his 400-meter title.

City Boys Loom Strong Two of the five outstanding eastern contenders for the track and field crown, New York University and Manhattan College, never before lifted the outdoor honors, although both have captured indoor titles in recent years. Their development as team factors under the coaching of Emil Von Elling and Pete Waters has been rapid and comparatively recent.

Yale, Cornell and Harvard, on the other hand, took turns at dominating the I. C. A. A. A. outdoor championships prior to the impetuous rush of the boys from the Golden West. Crimson teams won the team trophy no less than 14 times but you have to thumb the pages all the way back to 1905 to find their last victory. Cornell from 1905 to 1919 captured nine championships under the guidance of John Francis Mockley, who now has put together one of his best post-war teams. Yale, victor in 1924, is the only eastern winner since 1920 and the Elis look to have an excellent chance to repeat after a lapse of 10 years.

Troy Golf Tournament Troy, N. Y., May 23 (AP).—A four-day invitation golf tournament with a field including many of the low handicap amateur golfers from the Metropolitan district, has been announced by the Troy Country Club for July 19, 20, 21 and 22. This is the first time such an affair has been run off in this section in several years. The first day will be given over to 18 hole qualifying rounds with match play starting the next day and climaxed by a 36-hole final on the 22nd.

Pirates Return to National Lead, Cards Trim Giants, Yankees Lose

By HUGH S. FULLERTON JR.

The Pittsburgh Pirates and returned to the top of the National League standings today and a major share of the credit belonged to Ralph Birkofer, young southpaw who came up to the B-leaders from Toronto late last season.

While the veteran Larry French, only other left-hander on the staff, has been slow to round into form, Birkofer has blossomed out as one of the league's most effective pitchers. The Pirates' 13-4 victory over the Phillies yesterday gave the youngsters their fifth triumph against only one defeat.

The victory sent the Bucs into the lead by a few percentage points over the Chicago Cubs who took a 5-4 decision to Brooklyn in the 12th, when Aussie Hansen let a grounder go through him.

The bean family of St. Louis brought the count up to 4-0 against the Giants as the Cardinals scored out a 7 to 1 victory, behind the younger member, Paul. Each of the brothers has beaten the world champions twice.

The Cincinnati Reds shattered their hard luck streak when they piled up 17 hits behind Paul Derringer to beat the Braves 10-4.

The Yankees' lead in the American League dwindled further when the Cleveland Indians walloped the pacesetters, 5 to 1. The victory left Cleveland only a game and a half behind while Washington moved into a virtual tie with Detroit for third place by trimming the Tigers, 5 to 3.

Rogers Hornsby's Browns made another jump from seventh place to fifth when they scored six runs in the ninth to defeat Philadelphia, 12 to 11. The White Sox also won in the ninth, edging out the Red Hose, 5 to 5, when Henry Johnson walked in the deciding run.

Kingston Has Chance At DUSO Title on the Diamond Thursday

Macron and White to Compete With Free Academy At Newburgh—Students Entrenched Over Center.

Thursday afternoon Kingston High School's baseball team will play Newburgh Free Academy in a game which will decide who will be the DUSO champions in baseball for 1934. The game also will decide whether or not Kingston will make a DUSO League record, that of a school winning three major DUSO championships in one year. The game is called for 4:30 at Academy Field, Newburgh.

In their DUSO games, both teams have been undefeated. Newburgh has played the teams that Kingston is yet to play and Kingston has played the teams that Newburgh is to meet. The one DUSO team that both teams have played and defeated is Ellenville. Kingston trimmed Ellenville 31-9, in a sensational game, and Newburgh stopped Ellenville, 29-0, in an eight-inning game. Newburgh has defeated besides Ellenville, Port Jervis, 13-3, and Monticello, 14-4. Kingston has defeated Liberty, 4-0, and Middletown, 8-2.

Should Be Sensational. The game will bring together the DUSO League's best ball players, and if both teams are on, the contest should be a sensational affair, featured by a pitching duel between the DUSO League's ace twirlers, Martin of Kingston and Hunter of Newburgh.

The students of Kingston High held a pep meeting this afternoon with speeches, cheering and the usual noise and spirit in the auditorium of the high school. "Beat Newburgh" signs are in evidence throughout the school and tomorrow a large group of students is going to the game.

Kingston's Lineup.

Kingston will take the diamond tomorrow afternoon with Captain Jim Martin on the mound, George Zadany behind the plate, Jack Linden at first, Johnny Murphy at second, Ralph DeCicco at third and Don Moore at short. The outfield will consist of Mac Tiano, Elmer Hopper, and either Tom Matines, "Barrel" Ortale or Clay Harder. Emil Beck will be on the bench ready to do relief pitching, and Charley Beck will be on the bench ready to substitute in the infield if necessary. Charley Beck plays equally well at either second, third or short.

Newburgh will lineup with V. Hunter doing the twirling and Thomas at the receiving end of the battery, Lebowitz at first, McKinstry at second, Ciccio at third and Sladecki at short. The outfield will be composed of R. Hunter in left, Widmer in center and Chum in right.

Stanford Looks Good For Philly Classic

New York, May 23 (AP).—Eastern college track coaches, scanning their "dope-sheets" today, agree it will take some extraordinary performance to stop Stanford's small but powerful squad from carrying the classic I. C. A. A. track and field trophy back to the Pacific coast again on Saturday at Franklin Field, Philadelphia.

"We have at least three better-than-average eastern teams this year in Yale, Cornell, and Harvard," declared one prominent coach polled, "but none appears to have sufficient outstanding athletes—and by that I mean sure first or second place men—to win the meet. Six of Stanford's seven entries, by comparison, are 7-2 performers. It is easy to figure Dink Templeton's team will score from 25 to 40 points. This will be more than sufficient to win."

COMPETING FLEETS

MAY CAUSE TROUBLE

Albany, N. Y., May 23 (AP)—Competing fleets of milk carts that rumble about the streets at dawn may be at the root of the New York milk industry's troubles. Dr. Leland Spencer, the Legislature's special milk investigator, said today.

There are probably too many milkmen, Dr. Spencer declared.

He told Mayor Fiorello H. La Guardia and the state milk advisory board at a conference on the milk problem yesterday that improvement in the industry's financial condition can come only with "new methods of distribution or greater efficiency in the present methods."

Today as the advisory board resumed its deliberations Dr. Spencer outlined his opinion, formed in a year of putting milk dealers' methods under closest scrutiny.

Dr. Spencer's staff of accountants has acted as a $25,000 microscope, financed by the Legislature, to find out what becomes of the 11 cents paid by upstarters and 12 cents paid by New York city householders for milk.

They found late last year that many dealers are not making enough money to get along. Others are doing better. One the other hand farmers are not able to pay their own dairy expenses.

"Unquestionably the costs of handling milk could be reduced if we had fewer distributors," Dr. Spencer said.

"There is no certainty in my mind, however, that milk would be delivered at a lower price if we had a monopoly."

"The ideal condition probably lies somewhere in between the competitive system and monopoly."

There are 3,500 licensed distributors in the state.

Moscow, May 23 (AP)—Col. Frank Knox, publisher of the Chicago Daily News, today advocated the summation by the United States of an international conference for monetary stabilization as a step toward solving the problem of Europe's economic recovery.

Counting his impressions in the course of a brief European tour, he described the situation in Europe today as "halting."

"The general atmosphere," he said, "is electric due to an unformed dread of the future based on uncertainties concerning Germany."

"There is a fear that as Germany grows greater the complete collapse of the disarmament conference draws nearer."

Miss Batten was making her third attempt at the flight when she soared away from Lympne, England, May 8.

Her first effort was in April 1933. Then her machine broke down beyond repair at Karachi, India. Last month, trying again, she crashed in Rome.

As soon as her plane could be repaired, she flew back to England and began preparations for the third try.

The plane in which Miss Batten set her record is an ordinary standard wooden moth nearly five years old.

The young woman went to England a few years ago to study music, but Sir Charles Kingsford-Smith's Pacific flight inspired the ambition to fly.

Forthwith, she sold her piano to help pay for her flying lessons.

Miss Batten's mother, who accompanied her to England, at first opposed her daughter's drift from music to aviation, but later became one of her strongest supporters.

Small and attractive in appearance, she proposes to fly to Auckland, New Zealand, soon to join her father there.
